

"I would recommend Attorney Robert Brenna Jr. of Brenna, Brenna & Boyce because of his high level of character and ethics. His character and ethics drive how he practices law. His commitment to the practice of law, his clients and other attorneys is driven by the highest standard of ethics that he holds himself to. He goes above and beyond what the law states that an attorney should do for his clients, and I have told every person that I have referred to him that they will have an attorney who will treat them like a trusted and valued friend. He had a sense of character and previously stated high standard of ethics when he handled my personal injury case. I was turned down by a personal friend who was also an attorney, this person told me that I had no case and they could not help me. However, Attorney Brenna saw my personal suffering and had compassion and outrage at this injustice. We were victorious in our case and I never had any doubt. We were David vs. Goliath. I have learned from my attorney that no matter how great the task, you can overcome the obstacles." -Odell Buggs
